Failure of a person required to report child abuse or neglect under their official or professional capacity shall be reported to the Hardin County Law Enforcement for consideration of charges.

8. According to ORC 2151.421, when any person acting in an official or professional capacity “knows, or has reasonable cause to suspect based on facts that would cause a reasonable person in a similar position to suspect” child abuse or neglect, that person is mandated to immediately report the alleged child abuse and neglect to the Hardin County Department of Job and Family Services or to a county law enforcement in the county where the child resides or where the abuse or neglect is occurring or has occurred.

Interagency reports of serious abuse or neglect require cooperation and timely sharing of information to assure the safety of children, and/or identified individuals with developmental disabilities. Cooperation and information sharing is needed to appropriately address important case developments and to ensure culpable individuals are held responsible.

HCDJFS Social Services Department's primary role in this process is to assure maximum protection for the child and to clearly understand the circumstances surrounding the reported abuse or neglect so that the overall well-being of the child can be assessed through determining whether medical and therapeutic treatment is necessary and evaluating a safe placement for the child. Law enforcement's role in this process in addition to the above is to uphold the Ohio Revised Code and to bring to justice individuals in violation of the law.

In order to assure a child's safety is not compromised, it is agreed that should the particular law enforcement agency or Children's Services representative require urgent assistance of the other, upon request, the other agency will respond in person within one hour. It shall be considered an urgent situation if one of the following exists.

- An allegation of abuse or neglect meeting the Hardin County/Ohio Department of Job and Family Services (ODJFS) Guidelines has been made and the child is at risk of imminent harm.
- The alleged abuser identified in a child abuse or neglect allegation is in the household or has on-going contact with the alleged child victim and the victim has confirmed sexual abuse or strong evidence of sexual abuse exists.
- The alleged abuser is in the household or has ongoing contact with the alleged child victim of confirmed serious physical abuse.
- The caretaker involved in a child abuse or neglect report is unwilling or unable to fully protect the child living in the household and serious harm is likely without intervention.
- Situations may arise where a child is not found to be at imminent risk of harm at the time of the initial report, however, based on the nature of the circumstances, an immediate interview may be deemed in the best interest of the criminal investigation. In situations where a collaborative decision has been made of the need for an immediate interview of the child victim, HCDJFS will respond in an expedited manner that meets the needs of the criminal investigation.

It is agreed that Hardin County Department of Job & Family Services shall:

1. Respond to emergency and non-emergency reports of child abuse and neglect by:

Each component of the protocol may be modified where necessitated by the specific circumstances of the interview, including but not limited to, the age and cognitive capacity of the alleged child victim, as well as the circumstances surrounding the opportunity to obtain an interview of the child victim.
- c. Interviews should generally consist of open-ended questions coming from the child's free recall memory, however deviations from the protocol follow in these examples:
 - i. A single video recorded interview by a trained forensic interviewer is the preferred method for interviewing a child victim of sexual or severe physical abuse in which the child requires medical treatment. However, the trained interviewer may not abandon the prospect of interviewing a child if a video recording system is not operable and they believe that critical evidence may be sacrificed by waiting (e.g., preserving evidence of the child's state of mind, familial pressures on the child to recant the allegations, etc.).
 - ii. Although a single interview of the child victim is preferred, HCDJFS recognizes that situations may arise where a second interview of the child is appropriate (e.g., the child discloses additional information to a caregiver or friend subsequent to the victim's initial interview with the interviewer, etc.).
 - iii. An emergency might evolve or exist necessitating the requirement for obtaining immediate information in order to protect the health, safety or welfare of the child victim/child subject of the report or a related family or household member. As such, differing locations for conducting interviews and additional types of questioning styles may be employed by the interviewer.

- d. Assure exchange of information critical to child safety, family assessment and concurrently assisting law enforcement with their criminal investigation.
11. Promptly report to the Hardin County Prosecutor when the agency obtains knowledge that there has been unauthorized dissemination of confidential child abuse investigation information.

13. Contact the Hardin County Humane Agent/Hardin County Sheriff's Office for the handling of abused or neglected animals discovered during a child abuse/neglect investigation.
14. Respond to reports of a death of a child by using the afore identified procedure for handling serious cases of abuse or neglect. Participate in exchange of information according to ORC 3701.045 Child fatality review boards conducting reviews.

11. Under ORC 2151.3516, respond by taking possession of a child under 31 days of age deemed to be deserted in order to assure necessary protection for the child's health and safety. Immediately notify HCDJFS of the deserted child so that arrangements can be made for the child's custody and care.

Emergency:

Emergency removal of a child from home is necessary when the child is at imminent risk of harm and in need of protection from abuse, neglect, or dependency.

An Ex Parte order may be issued with or without a complaint being filed. Prior to taking the child into custody the judicial fact-finder must make a determination that reasonable efforts were made to notify the child's parents, guardian, or custodian, or there were reasonable grounds to believe doing so would jeopardize the safety of the child or lead to the removal of the child from the jurisdiction.

Juv. R. 6 orders can be issued in-person, by phone, or otherwise. Reasonable grounds must exist to believe the child's removal is necessary to prevent immediate or threatened physical or emotional harm.

Findings must be made that the agency either did or did not make reasonable efforts to prevent the removal of the child from their home with a brief description of services provided and why those did not prevent the removal or allow the child to return home, and if temporary custody is granted to the PCSA an additional finding that it would be contrary to the welfare and best interest of the child to continue in the home. If granted, a shelter care hearing must be scheduled the next business day (but not later than seventy-two hours) after the emergency order has been issued.

Non-Emergency:

Upon receiving a report alleging child abuse, neglect, and/or dependency, Hardin County DJFS/PCSA commences an investigation in accordance with the requirements of section 2151.421 of the ORC. If the final case decision rises to the level of court involvement, Hardin County DJFS/PCSA shall approach the Court of Common Pleas Domestic Relations Division and file a complaint alleging the child(ren) to be abused, neglected, or dependent per ORC 2151.27. The matter will be set for a shelter care/preliminary protective hearing within the applicable timelines, by the Court of Common Pleas Domestic Relations Division.

Reasonable oral or written notice of the time, place, and purpose of the hearing must be provided to the parents, guardian, or custodian unless they cannot be found. The same parties are also entitled to notification that a case plan may be prepared, the general requirements, and possible consequences of non-compliance with the case plan.

The parties will be served with the complaint and summons to appear before the juvenile court. Unrepresented parties are advised by the juvenile court of their right to counsel. Counsel is appointed for children when abuse is alleged. A Guardian Ad Litem is appointed to all children subject to abuse, neglect, or dependency proceedings. A separate Guardian Ad Litem/CASA may be appointed to minor parents or parents who appear mentally incompetent.

The judicial fact-finder must determine whether there is probable cause that the child is abused, neglected, or dependent; the child is in need of protection, whether or not there is an appropriate relative or kin willing to assume temporary custody of the child, reasonable efforts were made by Hardin County DJFS/PCSA to prevent the removal or continued removal or to make it possible for the child to return home safely, and for temporary custody orders to Hardin County DJFS/PCSA that it would be contrary to the welfare and best interest of the child to continue in the home. All other temporary orders should be requested and considered at this time.
